Summary:

Every year, World Environment Day is observed on June 5. This day is celebrated to encourage awareness and environmental protection. On account of World Environment day, June 5 2021, Eco Club of Madras School Of Social Work conducted an online contest- "Wealth out of waste contest 2021". The celebration of this day provides us with an opportunity to broaden the basis for an enlightened opinion and responsible conduct by individuals, and communities in preserving and enhancing the environment. The contest comprised of three events, Go green ( Poster making), Doodle eco (Doodling) and regard what you discard (Junk art). The primary focus was to create an awareness on environment sustainability through art forms. The basic idea is to create an environment where individuals feel their responsibility towards the environment and to take necessary conducive efforts for the protection of the environment. We had overall 121 registrations which was done through Google forms and a total of 65 participants took part in the event out of which 2 participants were considered winners for each category. This event brought out the creative aspect out of the participants and made the event a successful one.
